Thought Treasureable

To be angry about trifles is mean and churlish, but to prevent and suppress rising resentment is wise and glorious, is manly and divine.—Watt.

Today is the fifth birthday anniversary of little Louise Bryant and to add to the pleasure of the happy occasion, her mother, Mrs. C. C. Bryant, entertained at their home, 303 S. Watula street, thirty young playmates at a pretty party from 3 to 5 o'clock this afternoon. Games and puzzles and popping corn were joyous diversions for the little folks, but the most fun of all was the lighting of a Christmas tree, beautifully trimmed and the distributing of souvenirs to all present by Santa Claus, who stopped to join the party for a short time en route to his northern home. Ice cream and Christmas cakes were served. A birthday cake with five lighted candles centered the dining room table and was later cut by the honoree. Mrs. Bryant was assisted during the afternoon by her sister, Miss Gladys Farris, Miss Irene Tompkins and Mrs. D. S. Welch. Little Miss Louise received many pretty birthday remembrances.
